

By 1867 news of the well watered land ~~available~~ ^{at hyperfield} along the Monbulk Creek between Well. Road and the creek had evidently reached the metropolis and in that year all ~~the~~ land/in the area then ~~known as~~ known as "The FlatS" was taken up by ^{the following} selectors: ~~The~~

W. S. Lyster, for whom the district is named; Patk Callanan, city wine and spirit merchant; Edw. Charsley, Melbourne barrister and original selector of "The Leasowes"; G. Hunt, nominee of Chas. Head, ^{a headman} while ~~the following year~~ Lyones, prominent early Councillor and Henry Wildes, just as prominent distiller of illicit whisky, are believed to have taken up the remaining selections the following
